DRUMHELLER DISTRICT SENIORS FOUNDATION

Policy:	Reason for Eviction
Title:	4.09
Department:	Self-Contained
Board Approval Date:	November 27, 2025
Revised/Reviewed Date:

Policy Statement: This policy is to inform the residents of the reasons why DDSF may evict a resident from the property.

24-hour notice

This type of eviction is used only in two serious circumstances. First, when the landlord believes the tenant has caused significant damage to the rental unit. Second, when the tenant has assaulted (or threatened to assault) the landlord or another tenant.

In cases of assault or verbal threats, the landlord can also choose to skip the 24-hour notice and apply directly to the Residential Tenancy Dispute Resolution Services to end the tenancy.

14-day notice (eviction for cause)

All other evictions from Drumheller and District Seniors Foundation will come with a 14-day notice to vacate. The 14-day notice is used to evict tenants “in the event of a substantial breach.”

A substantial breach occurs when:

- Tenant has not paid rent in full when due
- Tenant interferes with the landlord or landlord’s employees
- Tenant disturbs other tenants (for example, by playing loud music late at night, being noisy, drunkenness)
- Tenant endangers others in the building
- Tenant causes significant damage to the residential premises
- Tenant does not maintain or keep clean the residential premises and all property included in the residential tenancy agreement
- Smoking in the resident’s unit
- Use of illicit drugs
- Tenant does not vacate the premises when the tenancy ends

The 14-day notice means that the tenant has 14 full days to vacate. Neither the day the notice is given nor the final day count as part of the 14.

DRUMHELLER DISTRICT SENIORS FOUNDATION

Policy:	Reason for Eviction
Title:	4.09
Department:	Self-Contained
Board Approval Date:	November 27, 2025
Revised/Reviewed Date:

48-hour notice

The 48-hour notice is for just one circumstance: when a tenant has vacated the rental unit and another, unauthorized person is living there. In such cases, the landlord can give the unauthorized person 48 hours to vacate before applying for a court order to remove that person and end the tenancy.

If there are unauthorized tenants living in the unit with the authorized tenants also still there, the landlord would instead give a 14-day notice to the unauthorized tenants.

If the tenant objects to the reasons given in the 14-day notice, they must give an objection, in writing, to the landlord before the 14 days are over. Then, the landlord can either rescind the notice, or apply to the Residential Tenancy Dispute Resolution Service (RTDRS) or the Alberta Courts for an order to have the tenant removed.

Until a decision is made by either the RTDRS or the Courts, the tenant can continue living in the rental unit.

If the notice is for unpaid rent, the tenant has the right to cancel the notice by paying any outstanding rent in full before the termination date on the notice.

Five things seniors can do to prepare for an emergency:

1. Keep a record of medical conditions, allergies and current medications with you at all times, if possible. Note the name and contact numbers for your usual pharmacy and doctors in case you need to renew a prescription in a hurry.
2. Keep all of your current medications and an overnight toiletries bag together for ease of collection and quick transport. Same goes for any essential medical equipment.
3. Make a plan of action, and discuss it with your emergency contacts, for what to do in case of an urgent situation; include back up plans, such as determining a safe place to meet up should you be separated or out of communication. Keep an address book with your emergency contacts handy.
4. Make sure your home or residence has an 'emergency kit' which contains 72 hours' worth of non-perishable food, water, can opener, flashlight and back up batteries, hearing aids and batteries, incontinence products, battery-powered radio, copies of important documents and a first-aid kit.
5. Consult Canada's Public Health Agency which lists a number of helpful resources on emergency preparedness: Emergency Preparedness and Seniors and Your Preparedness Guide.

Cottage Fire Procedure:

Each residence is equipped with a smoke detector which is located on the living room ceiling. These smoke detectors are very sensitive and can be set off by something as simple as burnt toast, so it is important to determine what is causing the alarm to go off. It is your responsibility to call 911 if you feel it is warranted. If 911 is called, pull the manual pull station in the common area so all residents know to evacuate, and evacuate immediately.

The cottages are also equipped with heat detectors which are located in the kitchen, bedroom, and storage room. If a fire produces enough heat the alarm will sound in the common area. This is the red-coloured bell on the wall. Once the main alarm is activated all residents must immediately evacuate the building and call 911.

If evacuation is necessary, all residents need to go to the main entrance of Sunshine Lodge. This is the Muster Point.
